Lauren the Only Democratic Senator Absent from the Caucus.Washington, Dec. 12.—The Democratic senators held their first session of the present session. Its purpose was to consider committee assignments, but the session was more than ordinarily significant because of the general discussion upon the caucus.
All the members elected as Democrats with the exception of Senator McLaurin of South Carolina, were present, while all the senators who were elected as Silver Republicans or Populists.The matter came up again in the appointment which is believed to be dispending in Mr. Fairbanks. With one of the White House callers questioning him about the appointment of Judge Baker, the president replied that he should always invite and welcome the information and advice of senators and representatives, as to the qualifications of candidates in their representative districts.The caucus was called at the instance of Senator John D. Barnes, who stated that he had been told that the new senatorial caucus was to make some change in the officers of the caucus. There was, however, a general expression of satisfaction with the present organization, and Barnes Jones was elected as chairman of the caucus.The old committee of order of business also was re-appointed and the one vacancy on that committee was filled by the selection of Senator Duluth of Idaho, who was the choice of all the members of the caucus.During the previous session, Senator Phillips suggested that there should be frequent conferences and a continuous effort in agree upon the main features of all political controversies. There was a general recognition of the suggestion but the party should not be compelled to yield to the other party in its views, he said.Young, in his report, said that the committee of order of business should be continued, and that the newly elected members of the caucus should be invited to their meetings.During the present session, Senator Young

Don't miss next week's Christmas number of the Gazette.

The no-school signal on account of the attack of Typhoid was enjoyed by the children, but it was a day lost from school life.

Read the ads. of home merchants for the holidays and visit their stores. Many shops in town keep open late in the evening and short hours.

The eight annual report of the Banker 1115 Boys Club which comes to us this week is full of interesting facts in regard to work being done for boys.

A good many boys who will find a place to do, and if he is not put in touch with the good he will find the bad, give the boy good clubs or good home reading and games.

The Boston election on Tuesday was a success in favor of the Democratic party.

There was a difference of 2000 votes between the predictions of Mr.
Hart's friends and mine. Hart's opponents were beaten, getting 1300 more votes than were cast for Quincy at the State election of a month ago.

Voting seems to be about as uncertain a thing to guess on as horse racing or base ball.

Now follows the breaking of the bugs in this month. The first issue of the Gazette in this month came out on October 25th and begin next week will have illustrated Christmas number which will come out next week full of valuable information.

If you are making some absent friend, who is interested in Weymouth, a Christmas present you can not do better than to send them a year's subscription to the Gazette.

The article in the People's Column of the Gazette of last week on church contributions has read with more interest and more discussion has followed it than anything we have published in long time.

This subject is one which is not only agitating Weymouth but the entire country.
The people of Weymouth are most an average, but they are thoughtful and considerate, getting 1300 more votes than were cast for Quincy at the State election of a month ago.

When we speak of Weymouth we mean the people of the Union Church of Weymouth and Unitarians and of Weymouth and Braintree.

We have a seating capacity of a little over 1000 and the last two years, last year was an ideal one for people to get out, only one-half of those settings were in use. In this because we haven't the people to fill them.

There are upwards of 15,000 people who are within the radius of these churches; allowing 35 per cent for carrying for the sick, we still have upwards of 8000 who might have been had they chosen.

The subject of the hour is a grave one, as everything we have which is good and right has come down to us through the efforts of our forefathers. The problem is how to get the people to all up the churches we have.

It will be seen by the above figures that instead of reducing the number of churches we need to add more. If all the people who are still should attend.

Old Colony Circuit League.

The quarterly meeting of the Old Colony Circuit League was at the Melton Hall, Weymouth, East Braintree, on Monday evening, Dec. 9th.

The president, Mr. B. L. Sylvester, of East Weymouth, called the meeting to order. Mr. S. C. Holbrook of Rockland conducted the glee service and Rev. A. G.
Beaton lay in prayer. After a general word by Miss Clara Chapman, who told the story of the break of the evening, Miss Clara Chapman of Newton, who brought to us reminiscences of her work in China where she labored.

Her address was full of enthusiasm for the work, and her personal experience with the Chinese made her talk very interesting.

Frank W. Lovell, the speaker, had an illustrated lecture on "Our Home and Foreign Missions." The illustrations and the story as told gave the audience a clear idea of what the work of the Foreign Missions is, and the progress made.

Mr. Arthur Parker, the pianist, also during the evening were each and all listened to with pleasure, and pronounced by experts to be of marked excellence.

Mr. Curtis Morse, the impersonator, followed, and during the evening gave a variety of selected pieces, all of graceful and elegant of character and well received.

Miss Jessie Truscott, soprano, and her mother, Mrs. Jessie Truscott, also had a good time.

After the recital and the singing of a hymn, the audience adjourned to the lounge of the home of the president, and the social hour began.

Discussions were present from Blagham, East Weymouth, Porter, Rockland, Hatherly and West Abington, and the lectures were received with great interest.

The address of Mr. C. C. Whitman was enjoyed and then followed the business session.

After the recital and the singing of a hymn, the audience adjourned to the lounge of the president, and the social hour began.

Mr. George Drew was in charge of the business session, and the discussion was carried on with great interest.

The overcoat worn by the name of Calendar Fair was the twin tables and booths were most beautifully decorated and arranged, representing each of the months of the year.

Mr. John F. Cushing had March and April and gave "Bargains" in reasonable goods.

Mr. James Ford had May and June with an extensive line of domestic articles.

Miss Emma Raymond, owner of the new "Fancy Goods" store, and Mrs. Bernard Mather dispensed choice candy at the August booth.

Mr. E. Hawes, Septembre and October, had a fine display feature.

Mr. Abbott L. Spaulding had a great display of fruits and vegetables for October.

Mr. B. B. Totman was in charge of November, and had a line of fancy goods which came in for good share of attention.

A special feature was given by Mr. C. W. Bailey.

The entertainment for Wednesday evening was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Lovell and the services of the Minstrels and while the performers were all young amateur.

Leighton Thompson, interlocutor.

The program was excellent, and among the best work of a program according to the verdict of a more than crowded house.

The program for the Friday evening again included the services of the Minstrels which had a large share of the entertainment, and the performances of the young amateur.

Miss Anna Bates sang solo.

Don't miss next week's Christmas number of the Gazette.

The snowfall signal on account of the storm of Tuesday was enjoyed by the children, but it was a day lost from school life.

The heads of home merchants for the holidays and visit home stores. Many spend a few hours in town and exchange property.

The eighth annual report of the Bunker Hill Boy's Club which comes to us this week is full of interesting facts in regard to work being done for boys.

A good many of the boy will find much to do, and if he is not put in touch with the good he will find the bad. Give the boy good ideas or good home reading, and games.

The Boston election on Tuesday was a decided win in favor of the Democratic party. There was a difference of 22,000 votes between the predictions of Hart's friends and those of the more skeptical. In all, 1,000,000 more votes than were cast for Quincy at the State election of a month ago.

Voting seems to be decided to ascertain a thing to go on as horse racing or base ball.

Now is your time to subscribe for the Gazette for 1902. All new subscriptions in this month date Jan. 1, 1902.

Our convenient number which will come out next week full of valuable information.

If you are making some absent friend who is interested in Weymouth, a Christmas present you can do no better than to send them a year's subscription to the Gazette.

The Gazette in the People's Column of the Gazette of last week, the church committee was read with more interest and more discussion has followed it than anything we have published in a long time.

The project is one which is not only aiding Weymouth but the entire country.

The people of Weymouth are doing their share to help the poor, but the fact remains that at one-half of the village it is our churches that are not occupied.

What we speak of Weymouth is the Union Church of Weymouth and Irintrace and now for the facts.

We have a vesting capacity of a little over 10,000 people.

There was an ideal one for people to get out only one-half of these sitings were in use.

In this because we haven't the people free!

There are upwards of 13,000 people who are within the radius of these churches; although there are 35,000 in the town.

They are under discussion is a grave one as everything we have which is good and right has come down to us.

It is the project of the Weymouth Improvement Association to see how to get the people to fill up the churches we have.

It will be seen by the signs figures that instead of reducing the number of churches we will see six more if all the people who are able should attend.

Old Colony Circuit League.

The quarterly meeting of the Old Colony Circuit League was held at the Methodist Church, West Braintree, on Monday evening, Dec. 9th.

The president, Mr. B. H. Sylvester of West Weymouth, presided at the meeting to order. Standard of Rockland conducted the praise services and Rev. A. G. Morton led in prayer. After the singing, Mr. Sylvester introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Clara Cushman of Newton, who brought to us reminiscences of her days in China where she did much work for the work of the church.

The speaker's address was a grave one as everything we have which is good and right has come down to us.

It was the project of the Weymouth Improvement Association to see how to get the people to fill up the churches we have.

It will be seen by the signs figures that instead of reducing the number of churches we will see six more if all the people who are able should attend.

After the roll call and the singing of a hymn the program closed the association of the evening and the remainder of the time was spent in a social hour during which there was a great deal of cake and coffee.

Degustations were present from Illegham, East Weymouth, Porter, Rockland, Hatherly and West Braintree, last evening and accepted from the League at Hatherly to hold the March meeting with them. An invitation also extended to the members of the Old Colony League to be present at the annual exercises of Brooks Chapter of the Porter Church on the evening of Jan. 1, 1902.

Calendar Date.

To the executive department of the Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. F. A. M. Morrissey, President of the First Congregational Church at East Weymouth, may be given credit of planning and executing our of the most pleasing and successful fairs of the year.

The even went by the name of Calenday Fair and the twin tables and booths were most elegantly decorated and the money representing each of the months of the year.

Mrs. George H. Wray was in charge of January and February and disposed of large quantities of dried fruits and other goods.

Mrs. John V. Cushing had March and April and gave "Bargains" in seasonable goods.

Mrs. James Ford had May and June with an extensive line of dried fruits.

Mrs. Lydia L. Smith presided over July and August.

Mrs. Bernard Bailey dispensed chocolate at the August booth.

Mrs. Abbott L. Spindley had a great sale of fruits and vegetables for October and November.

Mrs. H. B. Totman was in charge of November and December and had a line of fancy goods which came in for good share of attention.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hale provided over Mrs. C. W. Hale.

The entertainment for Wednesday evening was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Totman, Mr. L. M. Holden and was the favorite of the audience.

The female Minstrels and while the performers were all young amateurs with some skill and performance generally will rank among the best work of professionals according to the verdict of a more than creditable critic.

The evening was well filled to witness the new attraction, "The Devils of Santa Claus," which had been arranged by Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Totman.

The little drama was well arranged and followed with interest, and other attractions of the evening were equal to the best of the season.

Miss Edith Love, Miss Elsie M. Hayes, Miss Forest Lincoln and Mrs. Hodges, also a dancing act by the Anna Bates who in addition to her vocal solo acted as accompanist for the evening.

M. V. DAWK, EDITOR OF THE GAZETTE

COMPOSING BOOK:

Twenty-six years ago, the late Charles G. Easterbrook established the Weymouth Gazette. Mr. Easterbrook was a newspaper man of large experience and most a performer waits for his turn in the wings, having already rehearsed his part in the dressing room. This is almost exclusively in this paper in the music halls and on variety stage. On the stage proper "cue" is used. An actor has the wings for his "cue," the last word he utters, which gives him time or which, supposing him a performer— to be on the stage, to hint that it is his turn on the dialogue and the action of the play. "Extra turns" invariably mean that a new entry is having his first public turn at the house. If he will be in tolerably sure of security—engagement.—Notes

The Gazette passed into the hands of the Weymouth & Braintree Publishing Company, and for eleven years continued to cater to the same readers and business interests, and few, if any papers in the town as a welcome weekly visitor. Bought after by every non-resident who

WEYMOUTH SCHOOLS

Nearly Three Hundred Years of Development

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

The fathers believed in a school as well as a church and early inaugurated instruction under a town system for which we bear the town paid five pounds or $25.00 for a teacher for six months. From this small beginning with a school held in a private residence at North Weymouth, in a few years the school system had grown to one small school building and the salary had grown to twenty-five pounds but there had been added to the teachers' work that of section of the title of North Church.

At the last annual meeting the town voted to erect a new school building in this ward and it is now in process of construction. It will be an eight-room building of brick and in addition to filling a long felt want will be an ornament to the town.
